Learning English at an Early Age

Children's minds are like sponges. They are designed to absorb new information quickly, making the preschool years an optimal time to start learning a new language.

English is a universal language. As a valuable global skill, it can help kids be more successful later in life and allow them to explore new cultures and opportunities.

Knowing and understanding the value of early and frequent English exposure for kids, Futaba Kindergarten ensures that these values are well integrated in the school's overall approach.

And so, aside from our daily English lessons in the morning, the school also offers The English Garden, an after-school program for students who are interested and ready to learn more.
